THE LUMBERJACKS ARE MOVING!

We are moving our Lumberjack Ministry (5th-6th graders) to Wednesday nights.

With all the changes to Wednesday nights, we had a gap for the 5th-6th graders with the entire family having options we decided to fill the gap with Lumberjacks. This will allow Sunday morning for this age group to worship with their family.

Lumberjacks will meet from 6:30-8pm.

We are still recruiting the team that can help us run this ministry. IF you are interested, please contact the office Sarah@crosslakeefc.org or by calling 218.692.4141.

“Galatians 2” submitted by Mike Neumann

Ever sat down and read all of Galatians? I have to sheepishly admit that, prior to seminary, I never did. Oh sure, I knew about the Fruit of the Spirit (good luck having me rattle them off though). I knew about the, “I have been crucified with Christ” part of chapter two. Those are hallmark passages. Not bad for bumper stickers too! I can’t say I’ve ever been cut off or gotten an angry look from someone who has a bumper sticker with the Fruit of the Spirit.

Chapter one tells of Paul taking a bit of a hiatus after his conversion. I never knew he did that! We see in chapter one that Paul’s demeanor is less pleasant than his other letters.

He is upset by what he’s seeing with the church in Galatia. This leads into chapter two, where Paul gets into Peter’s face about being a bit two faced. Paul didn’t do the gentle, gingerly Christian etiquette by pulling Peter quietly aside and saying, “Hey man, I really feel like you’re not being authentic about who you are. I think we need some accountability with this.” Rather, Paul goes toe-to-toe with Peter in front of everybody! This is probably the point where people start shifting uncomfortably and trying not to make eye contact with either of the men. This all leads us to a point I want to highlight in chapter two.
